Sports

The Granite City Warriors advanced to the semifinal round of the IHSAA state soccer tournament by knocking off Naperville North 1-0 on Friday at St. Charles, Ill. Skip Birdsong scored the game's only goal on a header ball at the 33-minute mark of the first half. Goalkeeper Tim Henson registered the shut out as the Warriors aim their sights on their 10th state championship, and second in a row, in the 14-year history of the tournament.

Journal CEO moves to Eastern group

Robert M. Jelenic, president/CEO of the Journal-Register Co., has announced senior staffing changes involving the St. Louis Suburban Journals.

C. Thomas Marschel, president/CEO of Suburban Newspapers of Greater St. Louis, has been named publisher of the weekly newspapers published by Suburban Publications Inc. of Wayne, Pa., in the suburban Philadelphia area. Marschel replaces Larry I. Singer, who has moved to the position of publisher at the daily Evening Phoenix in Phoenixville, Pa.

Thomas E. Rice will assume Marschel's Journal responsibilities along with his current duties as president of Sunrise Industries. Sunrise Industries is the holding company which owns the Journal newspapers as well as The Telegraph of Alton, Ill.

Jelenic said, "Tom Marschel has been a driving force behind the success of the Journals and I am extremely pleased to have someone of his caliber to take over the Wayne group. His over 20 years of experience..."

Combined teams? Venice, Madison consider cooperative athletic program

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

MADISON — Madison High School Principal Robert Mehelic has introduced a preliminary plan for a cooperative athletic program with Venice High School.

Introduced at the Community Unit 12 School Board meeting Thursday evening, the plan would provide football, track, baseball and softball teams, each comprised of students from both schools.

The program is designed in such a way as to form cooperative teams at virtually no extra cost to either district.

The Madison and Venice basketball teams would remain separate. At present, MHS has football, boys' track and girls' track squads but no baseball or softball programs. VHS has baseball and girls' softball but no football or track teams.

The plan is to be considered for enactment prior to the 1990-91 school year's spring sports seasons.

According to the plan, which has yet to be presented to the Venice Board of Education, the football team, the boys' track team and the girls' track team would be called the "Madison Trojans" and would practice at Madison.

The baseball team and the girls' softball team would be named the "Venice Red Devils" and would practice in Venice.

Several logistical and other issues, such as transportation and hiring of coaches, have yet to be worked out.

But Madison School Superintendent Dan Kostencki said he feels that the program would be beneficial to athletes at both high schools who might otherwise be unable to participate.

Present coaches from the current sports teams are expected to be retained.

The plan is expected to be presented to Venice officials immediately.

Though the proposal has a long way to go to reach fruition, at least one coach sees much positive.

"This is basically a move to help the kids in our school districts," said Madison football coach Don Smith. "It's not so much a move to benefit the athletic programs, like the football team, so to speak. But it's more of a move to give the kids, who want to play football, baseball or softball, an opportunity to participate."

"Our school board is working very hard on this project," Smith said. "It's getting tougher for small schools to provide certain programs for the kids. The financial burden is becoming too great for some schools to support certain programs. So a move like this will give those kids an opportunity to get involved."

Smith said there is more to the proposal than just individual school talent.

Pontoon proceeds despite warning

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Despite a warning of legal action against it, construction went ahead as scheduled Thursday on the final phase of Chouteau Trace in the village of Pontoon Beach.

Installation of water lines, sewers, storm services, gas and electricity, and concrete streets — designed to provide services to 40 single-family building lots — was under way Thursday morning in the Pontoon Beach development.

Present at the site Thursday were village Mayor Glen Wilson, developer Stanislaus Lucas and Granite City real estate agent John Sobol.

The village received a warning in mid-October from Community School District Unit 9 that the district may consider taking legal action against the rumored development of Chouteau Trace. The school district expressed concern regarding the development of "residential housing" in an area which has been designated a Tax Increment Finance district by means of the Tax Increment Allocation Redevelopment Act.

A TIF district is an area which is recognized as a redevelopment area, and which has special tax laws in order to attract developers.

The Chouteau Trace TIF district was established by ordinance citing the location to be a "blighted area" and providing for tax abatements for potential future developers.

The plan for Chouteau Trace originally proposed no single-family homes. The plan did include 200 multi-family units, one hotel, six highway service units, a 200,000-square-foot retail center, and 57 duplex residences.

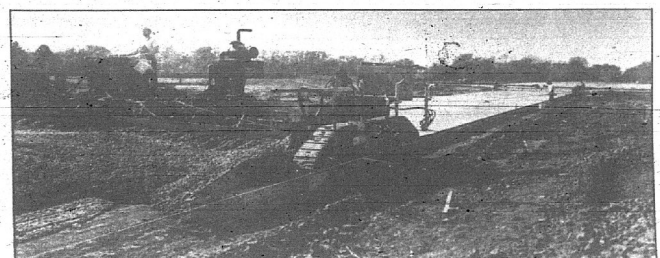

The property taxes collected in a TIF district, instead of being distributed to the usual taxing bodies (the school district, for example), are turned over to a commission who then may use the funds to pay for redevelopment costs within the TIF district.

In effect, TIF districts which include residences potentially increase the number of students in a school district without producing more funds to cover the cost of educating them.

According to the recently released "state report card," Granite City School District already spends $783 less to educate each pupil than the state average. This figure would become even higher should events follow as the school board expects.

School District 9 Superintendent Gilbert Walmsley said that while the district is in favor of TIF districts, which are intended to draw new business and industry to areas in need of development, "we are obviously concerned with any TIF districts established which include residential housing."

Walmsley said the district has contacted the Pontoon Beach Village Board letting them know of the school board's concern in regard to putting residences in such a TIF district in Pontoon

Below, Taylor Christopher of Boling Construction operates a Curbmaster street paver, which forms the street surface and curb at the same time.

Beach, namely Chouteau Trace.

A recent court decision in Marion would appear to support the school district's position.

Officials have interpreted the court finding to say that farmland does not qualify as a "blighted area." The Chouteau Trace area was farmland when the village established it as a TIF district in 1987. The ordinance also uses the "blighted area" terminology.

Initial building began in Chouteau Trace in the late fall of 1988. The project includes 40 lots. (See Pontoon, Page 10A)

Mayor sued over fired fire chief

By David Migoya
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — The firefighters union has gone to court in an attempt to force Mayor Von Dee Cruse into arbitration over his controversial decision not to reappoint Fire Chief Charlie Bernaix last May.

Granite City Firefighters Local 253 filed a grievance on Bernaix's behalf shortly after Cruse failed to reappoint Bernaix. The grievance contends Bernaix's position as chief was covered by the union contract and cites 10 alleged violations of the contract.

The union filed a petition Monday in Madison County Circuit Court asking a judge to compel Cruse to accept its grievance and take it before an arbitrator.

To date, Cruse has refused to acknowledge that Bernaix's demotion violated any portion of the contract.

"It's my understanding that the mayor just insisted it's not an arbitratable matter and refused to accept that the complaint was a grievance," said Art Asadorian, president of the local.

Cruse could not be reached for comment. He had no comment, citing his policy of "no comment" on pending legal matters.

Asadorian said the grievance was first presented to Fire Chief Jerry Wallace, who succeeded Bernaix. Asadorian said Wallace "for obvious reasons" declined to take action and the grievance was turned over to Cruse.

Two days after Bernaix was replaced as chief, Cruse told Asadorian the decision not to reappoint Bernaix didn't violate the contract and no hearing would be held on the grievance.

The union sought to invoke arbitration July 10. On July 13, Cruse allegedly again denied that a grievance existed and has refused to select an arbitrator.

Asadorian said it is the union's position that all members of the Fire Department, including the chief and assistant chief, are covered by the contract. (See FIRE CHIEF, Page 10A)

Employee suspended at high school

GRANITE CITY — An employee at Granite City High School was suspended early last week, in light of an sexual misconduct investigation by the Department of Children and Family Services.

District 9 Superintendent Gilbert "Gib" Walmsley confirmed Friday night that he had suspended the male employee with pay. Walmsley declined to comment on specifics, other than to say the investigation did not involve any kind of school-related activity or property.

DCFS investigators could not be reached for comment.

CAUGHT'EM: Two escaping convicts were heroically caught by a well trained policeman during the Halloween Parade at Wilson Elementary School on Oct. 31. The policeman is better known as school secretary Sharon Parker. The convicts are fifth graders John Coleman, center, and Steven Light, right.

Lively downtown corner features Old Newsboys

Where can St. Louisans purchase a newspaper from a 7-foot-tall bird or a fire-eating juggler?

On Nov. 15, Fredbird the baseball mascot and Marcos the Juggler will join a host of St. Louis notables at the corner of Broadway and Market Street downtown to hawk the special Old Newsboys Day edition of the Suburban Journals.

Local celebrities will include six representatives of the Cardinals, personalities from KMOX-AM (1120) and KLOU-FM (103.3), and Rita Maddock, Miss Tall St. Louis. Fredbird's costume-character kit from Six Flags Over Mid-America also will join the festivities.

Local celebrities selling papers in front of the Marriott Pavilion Hotel at Broadway and Market, are just a few of the thousands of volunteer Old Newsboys who will hit the streets in the wee hours of the morning to raise money for children's charities.

Every penny collected is distributed to agencies in the metropolitan area.

Since the campaign was begun in 1957, more than $4.4 million has been raised for area children.

Fund drives such as Old Newsboys Day inspire Marcos the Juggler, whose real name is Mark Crank.

"It is a lot of fun because I sold papers as a boy. So, I am actually an old newsboy," Crank said.

"I like the idea that the money raised goes to children's charities. I like to do as much work for charities as I can."

If tradition holds, KMOX and KLOU radio will live cut-ins from the corner.

Vadalabene, former helper run in 56th

By Terry Hillig
Staff writer

Wally Gorski was at a fund raiser for State Sen. Sam Vadalabene last year when he began thinking about running for Vadalabene's 56th District seat.

At the time, Gorski said, it was uncertain whether Vadalabene, a Democrat from Edwardsville, would seek a sixth Senate term in this year's election. Vadalabene has served four years in the Illinois House and 20 years in the Senate.

"I became very concerned about what would happen if Sam retired, who the potential candidates might be," Gorski said. "I began to inquire about Republican support."

The support was there and Gorski, 42, of Edwardsville, now is trying to force Vadalabene into retirement. Both are seeking a four-year term.

Vadalabene, 76, has gained a reputation for attention to constituents' problems and is known as a battler for state funding for area projects, particularly highways and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. His resume lists nearly four pages of honors and testimonials.

"My knowledge of the process and the working relationship that I have established with my colleagues in the Senate and the House, as well as with representatives of the state agencies, have provided our area with the development and the implementation of innovative programs and has brought home many, many projects to benefit this area," Vadalabene said.

Gorski said Vadalabene deserves credit for his support for SIUE, area highways and other projects, but said some parts of the district, particularly the Granite City area, have fared less well than others.

Election '90

Gorski described Vadalabene as "kind of a spendthrift" who has supported tax increases that impeded the state's economic growth.

"As a small-business man, it appears to me there has been a lack of growth because of too many taxes on business," he said. Gorski is president of Midwest Title Insurance Co. in Edwardsville.

Vadalabene took issue with Gorski's portrayal of him as a big spender. Vadalabene said he has never accepted the state's $22,000 yearly allowance for a district office, instead maintaining his office in his home.

"A spendthrift is a man who doesn't pay his taxes for two years," Vadalabene said.

Gorski recently acknowledged that he owes nearly $11,500 in delinquent property taxes and penalties for 1988 and 1989.

Gorski said he delayed paying the taxes because of cash-flow problems. He said he planned to sell the two properties and use the proceeds to pay off the taxes.

Early in his campaign, Gorski criticized Vadalabene for his support of the temporary state income tax increase to support education and local government. The increase produced an extra $333 million for education in the fiscal year that ended June 30 but is due to expire next June.

Gorski said the increase would not have been necessary if the state had used lottery revenues to increase education spending, as voters had been led to expect.

Gorski said, however, that he favors extending the tax increase. "It needs to be extended or we won't have a school system," he said. "The first priority for our state is a good education for our youth."

He said quality education is essential for a good business climate.

Gorski does not agree with Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Edgar that the tax increase should be made permanent. But, like Edgar, he favors caps on property tax increases.

"The property tax is inequitable and a burden on people who own property," he said. Gorski has vowed to work toward more stable and equitable funding for education through greater dependence on the income tax and lottery revenues.

Vadalabene also opposes allowing the tax increase to expire next year. In that regard, he is at odds with his party's gubernatorial candidate, Neil Hartigan.

Hartigan has made ending the tax increase a key theme of his campaign. He has promised to make up the revenue loss through cuts in other programs and earmarking at least a quarter of revenue growth and half of all new revenue for education.

Gorski, in an interview lasting nearly an hour, never mentioned Vadalabene's age or health. "I don't intend to make it an issue," he said when a reporter raised the question. Vadalabene, who has had health problems in recent years, said he consulted with his doctor before deciding to seek re-election.

"The doctor says I'm in good shape to campaign and hold office," Vadalabene said. "I feel good."

Aquacenter plans water-filled awareness week

PONTOON BEACH — The Mid-America Aquacenter is pleased to announce its first Aquatic Environmental Awareness Week — a week filled with educational, environmental and public awareness opportunities.

The week-long program is offered through the Aquacenter's education and research foundation.

Activities include teacher aquatic awareness workshops, public slides presentations by the world noted diver and ecologist Dee Scarr, a fund-raiser and the unveiling of the mobile aquarium and models of programmed Aquacenter facilities.

The Professional Association of Dive Instructors is co-sponsoring these programs.

Scarr has been on "3-2-1 Contact," in three Stan Waterman films, several episodes of cable TV's "The Last Frontier" and more.

But instead of passively showing films, Scarr presents her adventures to audiences, actively and personally, in a slide show correctly identified as a "slide experience."

The personal nature of the "Touch the Sea" is said to make it fascinating to divers, non-divers, adults and children.

Scarr's "Touch the Sea," a slide experience will be presented Tuesday, Nov. 6, at the Walton's Convention Center (highways 15 and 158) in Belleville, from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Wednesday, Nov. 7, at the Belleville Area College's Programs and Service for Older Person's Center, 201 N. Church, Belleville, Ill., from noon to 1:30 p.m.; at Room 1105 in the Science Building Theatre at Southern University of Illinois at Edwardsville from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Each presentation will cost $3 for Aquacenter members and students and $5 for non-members. Memberships are available at the door. For information call Leonard A. Sonnenschein at 797-2782.

Fall makes grand appearance as locals hit road

Maxine Duniphan covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 303-3714.

Carl and Virginia Aldridge of Guth Place traveled to Valley Mines, Mo., last week to visit her cousin, Evabelle Smith, and her husband, Frank.

They toured the Smith farm and took a stroll along a winding creek, enjoying the beauty of fall foliage.

Later, the two couples motored to Boone Terre, Mo., where they dined at the Northfork Restaurant. The dinner was a belated celebration honoring the Smiths, who had celebrated

University Women to meet Tuesday

The Collinsville Branch of American Association of University Women will meet Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 7 p.m. at the home of Ruth Shaw, 1904 W. Main St., Collinsville.

A video program will explain A.U.W.'s stand on pro-choice issues. Guests are welcome. Call Shaw at 344-7589, or June Mills, 34-0594.

Membership is open to men or women in the area with a college degree.

their 50th wedding anniversary a few weeks earlier when the Aldridges were unable to attend.

Twenty-five members of the Johnson Road General Baptist Church attended the Meramec Caverns Annual Gospel Singing event on Oct. 20.

The program is held inside the caverns from 7 p.m. to midnight and attracts hundreds of people each year.

The trip began for the Granite City travelers at 3 p.m., with the early start affording them enough daylight to enjoy the scenic views along the country roads. Fall was making a grand appearance. The goldenrod was in full bloom and the vivid colors of the leaves ran the spectrum of an artist's palette.

The group traveled by auto and met at the Golden Corral Restaurant at Stanton, Mo., for dinner before continuing their trip to the caverns.

Those making the trip included Jess and Wilma Levart, Emily Alford, Lullabelle Wilfong, Bessie and Blanche Pickers, Richard and Loretta Gosnell, Lowell and Marguerite Warren and granddaughter, Tracy Wolfe and Jennifer Gosnell.

Also, Leroy and Mildred Hale, Ruby Heffner, the Rev. J.H. Lineberry, pastor of Johnson Road Baptist Church, and his wife, Brenda, Gary and Sandy Dickerman, Gene and Nina Logus, Charlie and Lou Logus, Peggy Jones and Wanda Renicke.

Several members of the Chouteau Township Senior Citizens Club will travel to Grafton on Saturday, Nov. 10, for a Saturday night dinner cruise on board the Belle of Grafton.

The dinner menu will offer a choice of prime rib or chicken, salad, side dishes, beverages and dessert. The boat will return to the dock at 10 p.m.

Cost of the dinner and cruise is $25 per person. For further information call Maxine Duniphan, entertainment chairman, at 331-5714.

The Junior Firefighters of the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department served as honor guards at the 100th anniversary celebration of the Illinois Firefighters Association's annual convention.

The event was held on Oct. 21 at the Collinsville Convention Center.

The Junior Firefighters stood as honor guards as the association conducted a ceremony honoring all Illinois firefighters who had died in the past year.

Attending from the Mitchell Fire Department were members of the Junior Firefighters unit and their senior officer, Capt. Tom Fedak.

Junior Firefighters present were Joe Lee, junior fire chief; Steve Evenoff, assistant fire chief; Mark Maue, captain; Brad Nelson, president; Matt Maue, vice president; Todd Bennett, secretary; and Darrell Dockery and Kevin Jones, junior fire unit members.

New officers for the junior group were elected on Oct. 18.

Zane Miller of East Chain of Rocks Road has returned from a two-week vacation in the western states, where he visited friends and relatives in the San Diego area.

While in California, Zane and his friend, Donald Sawyer, traveled by plane to Hawaii and spent five days on the island of Oahu.

Maxine Duniphan and her sister, Lucy Colbert, have returned from southeast Missouri, where they visited their mother, Lillian Carver, at the Lucy-Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Later in the week, the local women returned Mrs. Carver to her home at Puxico, Mo. Also visiting the Carver home over the weekend was another of Mrs. Carver's daughters, Ada Coburn, and her husband, Steve, of Springfield, Ill., and her granddaughter, Patsy Smith and family of McGee, Mo.

The Granite City residents returned home on Monday, taking various scenic routes to view the colorful fall foliage, which was especially beautiful in the area of Patton, Mo., the local women said.

Deary-Frazar

Karrie Louise Frazar and Roy Cameron Deary were married on July 14, 1990, at Christ Church in Jacksonville, Fla., by the Rev. John Hutchinson.

The bride is the daughter of Don and Karen Luddeke of Granite City and Lewis and Pat Frazar of Jacksonville, Fla., and the groom is the son of Rodger and Carol Deary of Jacksonville, Fla.

The maid of honor was Lisa Deary of Jacksonville, a sister-in-law of the groom. The bridesmaids were Becky Deary, a sister-in-law of the groom, Kris Toussaint and Robyn Ingoldby.

The best man was Don St. Dennis of Jacksonville and the groomsmen were Russell and Rodger Deary, brothers of the groom, and Dave Ingoldby.

The flower girls were Melissa and Sara Deary, nieces of the groom. The ring bearer was Ryan Deary, a nephew of the groom.

Ushers were Ford Frazar, Festus, Mo., brother of the bride, and Kenny Landgraf of Houston. A reception was held at St. Mark's Cafe on the Square.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Deary

After a wedding trip to Hilton Head Island, S.C., the couple is now residing in Jacksonville.

The bride, a 1986 graduate of Granite City Senior High, currently is a student at the University of North Florida. She also is employed by San Jose Country Club of Jacksonville as fitness director and swim team coach.

The groom is a graduate of the University of Arkansas. He is employed by Sunbelt Systems Inc. of Jacksonville as a manager trainee.

Specialist and Mrs. Paul Kenneth Sutter

Sutter-Shrewsbury

Dawn Marie Shrewsbury and Army Spec. 4 Paul Kenneth Sutter were married on May 19, 1990, in an afternoon ceremony at Soldiers Chapel, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Higgenbottom of Seattle. The groom is the son of Mary Smallwood of Granite City.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Renee Shrewsbury of Seattle, a sister-in-law of the bride. The best man was Army Pfc. Bob Solt, a friend of the groom, who also is stationed in Hawaii.

The groomsmen were David and Todd Shrewsbury of Seattle, brothers of the bride. The flower girl was Megan Shrewsbury, niece of the bride.

A reception was held at NCO Club at Schofield Barracks. After a wedding trip to Waikiki, the couple is now residing in Honolulu.

The bride is a 1987 graduate of Shorecrest High School in Seattle. The groom is a 1987 graduate of Granite City Senior High School.

He is a helicopter crew chief in the U.S. Army. The couple is named "Aviation Soldier of the Year" for 1990.

The specialist has served in the Army for two years and has been stationed in Hawaii for the past 1½ years.

Music highlights Coterie meeting

A musical program highlights the meeting of the Ladies Coterie held on Oct. 18 in the First Presbyterian Church parlor.

Twenty-two members were served dessert and coffee by the hostess, Mrs. John Tencoff. Mrs. Richard Schwendemann, president, presided.

Mrs. Dawson Wade, program chairman for 1990-91, introduced Mrs. George E. Filcoff, program chairman for the meeting.

An excellent musical program was enjoyed. Mark Sarich played two piano selections by Chopin — "The Minute Waltz" and "Waltz in C-Sharp Minor."

Sarich also conducted the Edwardsville Orchestra concerts for student teaching and organized the first Festival of Contemporary American Music at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

At present, he is working on a thesis, "Music in the Early Christian Church," to attain his master's degree in music.

A student of Kent and Linda Perry, SIUE instructors, Sarich is a member of the Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity.

Sarich also accompanied Filcoff as she played a violin selection, titled "Sonata for Violin and Piano," by Franz Schubert.

Introduced was April Polivick, a senior at Granite City High School and recipient of a Ladies Coterie Music Scholarship. She attended a Music Show Choir Camp at Eastern Illinois University for one week during the summer.

Polivick had the lead part in the Homecoming Play, sings in the Mixed and Swing choruses and is a cheerleader.

She sang two selections — "Everybody Loves Somebody" and "I Want Jesus in Your Heart" — and expressed her appreciation to Coterie members for the opportunity to attend the summer music camp.

Mrs. Joseph Bilibrey, Condo-lence Committee chairman, reported sending a floral remembrance to Mrs. Fred Haag who had been in the hospital. Marguerite Barker designed

181 seniors party at local Halloween dance

The Granite City Council of Seniors recently held a Halloween dance at the Township Hall which was appropriately decorated in keeping with the Halloween season.

There were 181 members in attendance. Several wore masquerade costumes for judging by Rosemary and Dan Brown.

Winning the top costume awards were: Matilda York for the best dressed; Rosemary Breyer for the funniest; and Marie Verbyck for the most original.

Jerry's Cafeteria catered refreshments of sloppy joes, potato salad, apple sauce, brownies and after-dinner mints. The Alley Kate band then performed for dancing.

Special guests were Steve Hamilton from Granite City High School and members of the GCHS Student Council, including Amy Russell, Leah Schuman, Jon Galbreath, Darla Mayhall, Ben Hicks, Bill Herman, Bill Clark, Dana Bultitz, Brooke Bjorkman and Rob Terrell.

Hamilton gave details concerning an event scheduled for Jan. 19, 1991, at the high school.

During intermissions, Council President Gertrude Boskay announced several future activities and a 50/50 game was held.

Special attendance prizes were won by Vincene Zerlan, Lydia Gorski and Marie Toth. Silver dollar winners were Adele Bal-lentine, Barkley, Bill Stearns, Rich Aurand, Ely Mainor, Louise Riggs, Steve Barry, Helen Lipchick, Ben Forsythe, Harry Fryntzko, Matilda York, Lily Chaboude, Ann Mercer, Retta Lombardi and Barbara Murphy.

High standards for St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra

By Scott Oliphant
Staff writer

The award-winning St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra gives young musicians a taste of playing music professionally.

James McKay, 16, said he hopes to increase his musical aptitude as a bass player through training with the orchestra. "For McKay, music has become an essential part of his persona."

"Playing an instrument helps me to express myself," he said. "I can take out my frustration by taking out my favorite piece and playing it."

The junior at Normandy High School adds that he receives invaluable lessons from his fellow musicians when the orchestra breaks down into individual sections.

"We learn secrets and tricks about technique from each other," he said.

There are a number of representatives from Metro East in the symphony, though none from the immediate Press-Record-Journal coverage area.

For Dolly Schneider, 17, the camaraderie of the youth orchestra is valuable to her as a musician.

Schneider, a student at Sanford Brown Business College, said she enjoys playing in the group because of the orchestra's nice environment.

The youth orchestra, which is affiliated with the St. Louis Symphony, will celebrate its 20th anniversary this year during its Dec. 2 concert, under the direction of David Loebel, the associate conductor of the symphony. The concert will be at 3 p.m. at Powell Symphony Hall.

The youth orchestra was established by St. Louis Symphony music director and conductor Leonard Slatkin when he was the associate conductor.

Members of the youth orchestra are able to work with the professional members of the St. Louis Symphony, according to Lee Anna Knox, assistant director of public relations.

Knox said the program brings the students, who receive coaching from professional musicians, to another level.

Carol Barker, Knox, a former member of the youth orchestra even went on to play in the St. Louis Symphony.

Peggy Nielson, manager of the youth orchestra, agreed that "the experience will help (the participants) develop professional skills."

The music played by the young musicians is as challenging as that of most professional orchestras, Knox added.

"A lot of the music you would hear at a youth orchestra concert could be played at a St. Louis Symphony concert," she said.

Nielson said she realizes that not every participant will pursue a musical career. But even if the orchestra is a means to another end for some members, she strives for all participants to enrich themselves artistically.

"We hope this experience will keep them interested in the arts when they go out and pursue different careers," she said.

The ages of the members usually range from 12 to 22, Nielson said. And about 50 percent of the members are returning from last year's lineup, she said.

The participants audition in August and September to gain membership in the group. This year, 170 young musicians auditioned for 108 positions, Knox said.

All of the participants are talented musicians, and most have been playing for a number of years, she said.

The orchestra practices every Saturday afternoon for several hours in preparation for its three regular concerts at Powell Symphony Hall each year. In previous years, the group has participated in international competitions in Europe, where it has received awards.

The youth orchestra is a valuable stepping stone for some members, participants said.

McKay plans to continue his musical education at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, Md. Playing in the orchestra helps him with music he might perform in the future.

"This gives me a chance to practice a hard repertoire that I might see later on," he said.

Schneider has an interest in pursuing opportunities with other orchestras in the future.

She sees the advanced music as giving her "a chance to experience what happens in a larger orchestra."

principal cellist John Sant'Ambragio will be the guest soloist for the milestone concert.

Two of the concert's featured pieces, the Bach/Stokowski "Passacaglia and Fugue" in minor and Aaron Copland's "Suite from Billy the Kid," were also on the program for the 1970 premiere concert.

The Brahms "Double Concerto" in A minor for violin, cello and orchestra will feature as soloists SLSO members Takaoki Sugitani and John Sant'Ambragio, both of whom serve as section coaches.

The St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra is sponsored by the Women's Association of the St. Louis Symphony Society and administered by the St. Louis Symphony Society.

Tickets for the performance range from $10 to $100, and are available at the Powell Hall box office, (314) 534-1700, and all MetroTix outlets.

volunteer host family from Europe, Canada, Mexico and New Zealand.

The non-profit, public benefit ASSE International Student Exchange Program is affiliated with the national Swedish and Finnish Departments of Education, cooperates with the Canadian Provincial Ministries of Education, and is approved by the Australian and New Zealand Departments of Education.

ASSE also provides international opportunities for families to host students from Scandinavia, Germany, France, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, Japan, Canada, New Zealand, Italy and Mexico. These select students are 15- to 18 years old and will attend the local school for an academic year.

Those interested in more information about the ASSE program should contact Barbara or Wayne Reuter of Granite City at 876-0138 or call 1-800-333-3802.

School retreats attend luncheon

Granite City High School retired teachers and office personnel and their spouses met Oct. 10 for lunch at The Cornucopia Buffet (formerly Walton's Cafeteria) in Edwardsville.

Those attending were Willis and Marian Whitfield, Mary Frances Lynch, Dick and Betty Harmon, Tom and Marge Noth, Grover and Marge Norwood, Dorothy McCauley, Fay Kutsky, Dorothy Mitchell, William Berry, Al and Jane Lewis, Conrad "Babe" Champion, Beth and Merle Spengler, Joe and Helen Kutosky.

The group celebrated Tom and Marge North's 44th wedding anniversary and Dick Harmon's birthday. Any teacher retired from the high school is welcome to attend. The next meeting will be Wednesday, April 10, 1991.

The program is designed to increase the older driver's concern for the normal age-related physical changes of vision, hearing, and reaction time, as they affect driving and increase the awareness of appropriate techniques for driving in today's complex traffic patterns.

The course will be held at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, 4950 Maryville Road, on Monday, Nov. 12; and Tuesday, Nov. 13.

A Fall Harvest Moon Dance with the Jim and Dave Show will be sponsored by the Mental Health Services' Parents Plus Program on Friday, Nov. 9, from 7:30 p.m. to midnight.

The annual event is presented as a benefit to help raise money for programming for teens in Madison County.

Food will be available for purchase throughout the evening and a silent auction will be held. The $8 donation includes beer and set-ups.

As a Parents Too Soon site, the local program's main emphasis is on working with pregnant and parenting teens, according to Sue Parr, supervisor of Prevention Services.

Mental Health Services also provides other community based programming, including a speakers' bureau for community groups and schools.

For tickets or additional information, call Mental Health Services at 877-4420.

IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE CHRISTMAS . . .

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The Christmas Season is rapidly approaching, and our City is without traditional Christmas decorations that many other communities enjoy. We lack of community spirit from St. Louis News Media last year because of "Weird" Season. It appears that the interest in the traditional decorations of the parties that could provide the absence of a central organization of the Holy Spirit project may have been the problem rather than the lack of purchase and management of interest.

Your local Chamber of Commerce and City Government are offering to be the organizer and catalyst for a fund drive to purchase decorations for the business district along Nameoki Road, Johnson Road, Fehling Road, and the Central Downtown business district between 18th Street and 23rd Street from Madison Ave. to Cleveland Ave.

We are proposing to purchase street banners depicting the Christmas Season to be mounted on street light poles by means of a small steel bracket. The banners would be put in place and removed for storage by street department of the city. The brackets once attached to the street light poles would remain in place and might be useful for other seasonal celebration if desired. The approximate cost for one banner and brackets is $100. It is estimated that there are 250 banner and brackets is $100 described.

Corporations, clubs, organizations and individual citizens of Granite City will be asked to contribute to this effort as well as businesses and professional firms located in the two areas mentioned. In order to be successful, there must be strong participation from the business and professional community. Please indicate your level of support by purchasing one or more set of banner(s) and mounting brackets.

Check the appropriate number and drop in the return mail so we may be able to move forward with this project in time for this Christmas Season.

Miss Teen of Nation applications ready

Applications are now being accepted for the 1991 Miss Illinois Teen of the Nation Pageant, April 18-20, 1991, at the Matteson (Ill.) Holiday Inn.

Young women between the ages of 15 and 19, currently living in Illinois, are eligible. Contestants will be judged in three equal areas of competition: personal interview, evening dress and swimwear.

The contestant scoring the most points will be crowned Miss Illinois Teen and will win an all expense paid trip to Washington D.C. to compete for the national title of Miss Teen of the Nation 1991.

Those interested are invited to attend an informational meeting at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, at the Eisenhower Center, 2550 17th St., Lansing, Ill.

Reigning queen Patricia Redmond of Lansing will be present to greet candidates. For an official entry form and further information, call (708) 349-0957 before 3 p.m. or (708) 862-8940 after 3 p.m. or write: Miss Illinois Teen of the Nation Pageant, 15001 S. 31st Ave., Orland Park, Ill. 60462.

Artists' auction set for Thursday

The Gateway East Artists' Guild will present its "Artists and Crafts Auction" with a Country Store at the Collinsville Memorial Library, 408 West Main, Collinsville, on Thursday, Nov. 8.

Items may be previewed at 7 p.m., with the auction beginning at 7:30 p.m. Auctioneer Norman Geolot has again volunteered his widely known talents for the event.

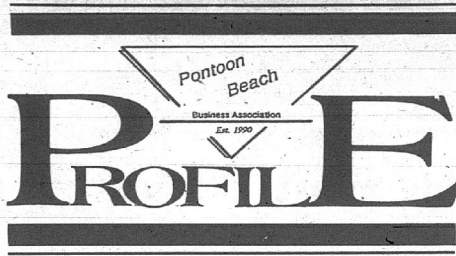

The women and men of the guild, among southern Illinois most well known and talented artists and craftsmen, will donate pieces of their work for the auction. This is an opportunity to add to fine art collections.

Featured will be paintings in oils, watercolor, acrylics and pen. There will be flower art, leather, pottery and ceramics.

The Country Store will offer patrons cookies, cakes and candies and crafts of all kinds will be available for selection.

Proceeds from the auction will support bringing visual arts to local communities through art exhibits and juried shows, the sponsors said.

Leroy's — A "Super" Market

By LEONARD WOOLSY

Jim carefully places grocery items into the brown paper bags for two women customers. After a moment of cheerful conversation, he loads the half-drawn bags into a shopping cart and delivers them to their car outside. The ladies smile, flattered at the unusual attention they receive from Jim, the Sacker.

But Jim is Jim Luesse, and he's more than chief sacker, he's also the owner of Leroy's Market, 4089 Pontoon Road, in Pontoon Beach. To Jim, this is the only way to do business.

"We take the time to call customers by their name rather than just 'take the money and run,'" Jim said.

The close, intimate atmosphere is what really sets Leroy's Market apart from the larger supermarkets that can be found throughout the Granite City area.

One of the keys to all of this is the close, family-like relationship that those who work there share. Almost half of the employees have been with the store since Jim's father purchased it in 1972. This gives regular customers a friendly face to visit each time they arrive.

Jim believes that what really makes Leroy's a better place to shop is the outstanding meat department. There are no walls to hide anything behind the counter.

Customers are invited to watch as their selections are prepared for them.

"We butcher the old-fashioned way, we don't hide the butcher in the back room - customers get to see what they're getting here," Jim said.

But that's not all Jim believes keeps so many regular customers coming back. Leroy's market is "not-large." That means that you won't be overwhelmed by towering shelves and long aisles. Customers can get in and get out fast - and today that's a big appeal to many of Leroy's customers.

Jim also is careful to price items competitively with the larger chains and keeps his perishable items (meat and produce) even lower.

Coming soon to Leroy's Market will be a deli for those who desire something a little different from the fast food routine. Also a new "fast-tax" service will be offered to customers who desire their returns within a couple of days.

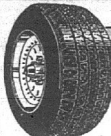

This summer saw a major renovation for Leroy's Market. The entire exterior was given a bright new look, as a reflection of the changes that Jim sees for the Pontoon Beach area.

"We look for great things to happen in Pontoon Beach, and we intend to be a part of it," Jim said.

Obituaries

Roach

Robertine "Bobbie" (DeFretas) Roach, 88, of Jacksonville, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 12:45 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 2, 1990, at Passavant Memorial Hospital in Jacksonville. She had been a patient for five days.

Mrs. Roach was born on July 23, 1902, in Jacksonville, and had resided most of her life in Granite City until moving back to Jacksonville five years ago.

She was employed as superintendent of credits and office manager for 25 years at Carson, Union and May, Stern in St. Louis, retiring in 1976.

Mrs. Roach was a member of Granite City Noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club; Al Sihah Temple 29, Daughters of the Nile; and the First Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

She is survived by several nieces and nephews and a dear friend, Betty Schermer of Granite City.

Her husband, Carl H. Roach, died on Sept. 26, 1986.

Visitation will be held on Monday from 4 p.m. until time of services at 7:30 p.m. at Gilliam-Buchanan Funeral Home, 326 West St., Jacksonville, Ill. Burial will be Tuesday morning at Diamond Grave Cemetery in Jacksonville.

Memorials to the First Presbyterian Church in Granite City or the Bartonstone Nursing Home in Jacksonville are suggested.

Greene

Dorothy W. (Woodsworth) Greene, 65, of Madison, died at 11:45 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 2, 1990, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. For three years, she was in the hospital for six months.

A lifetime resident of the Quad-City area, Mrs. Greene was born on Aug. 19, 1925, in Granite City. She resided in Madison for the past four years and had previously lived in Granite City for many years.

Mrs. Greene was employed for 15 years as a bookkeeper at Famous-Barr in St. Louis, retiring in 1985. She was of the Baptist faith and was a former member of Cedar View Baptist Church in Pontoon Beach.

Among the survivors are a son, Dennis Greene of Granite City; three daughters, Joyce Clemons and Mrs. Joseph (Cathy) Crocker, both of Granite City, and Linda Caldwell of Florissant, Mo.; one brother, Bill "Woody" Woodsworth of Collinsville; two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd (Mary Ellen) Lewis and Ruth Cox, both of Granite City; seven grandchildren; and a friend, Elmer Paris of Madison.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry C. Greene, and a sister.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, 876-4321.

Bauer

Grace S. (Barkley) Bauer, 76, of Granite City, died Friday, Nov. 2, 1990, at Anderson Hospital in Maryville. She had been ill for six days and in the hospital for one day.

Mrs. Bauer was born on June 15, 1914, in St. Louis and was a lifetime resident of Granite City. She was a homemaker and of the Catholic faith.

Among the survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Jim (DeLores) Blackshire of Castro Valley, Calif.; two sisters, Ruth Rucker and Gloria Geiger, both of Granite City; one brother, David Barker of Florissant, Mo.; and one grandson.

She was preceded in death by her parents, James and Stella (Burns) Barker.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Lahey Sedlak Funeral Home, 615 Madison Ave., Madison, 876-4321.

Pfeifer

Juanita Edith (Conrad) Pfeifer, 79, of Commerce, Texas, formerly of Granite City, died at 3:21 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1990, at a Commerce area hospital.

Mrs. Pfeifer was born March 22, 1911, in Vallonia, Ind. She was a homemaker.

Survivors include one son, R.E. Pfeifer of Silver City, N.M.; one daughter, Norma G. Kusewitt of Campbell, Texas; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Her husband, William F. Pfeifer, whom she married July 14, 1930, died July 28, 1982. Visitation was held Friday at Peters Funeral Home, Greenville, Texas. Graveside services were conducted Saturday at Memorial Cemetery by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Pass.

buildings, including McDonald's, Omni Bank, Remington's, apartments, duplexes, health-care facilities, single-family homes, according to a press release received from developer Stan Lucas, president of BTI Enterprises Inc. According to Lucas, current infrastructure improvements are expected to be completed by Dec. 1.

When contacted, Pontoon Beach attorney Keith Jensen had no comment.

Bill Beatty, one of the school district attorneys, stated that the school board "may well take action in the next couple of weeks."

Fire chief

tract. He said the union's grievance and court action "in no way reflect on the current chief."

Cruse announced the appointment of Wallace, rather than reappointment of Bernatz, at a City Council meeting May 8. The council voted 10-2 in favor of the appointment, with two other aldermen voting present.

Cruse has never said publicly why he replaced Bernatz, who reverted to his former rank of captain and remains a member of the department.

Asadorian would not comment on the specifics of the grievance or the remedies sought, but said a union must protect its members and contract.

"Charlie is part of the bargaining unit and we believe his demotion was without just cause," said union attorney J. Dale Berry.

Berry said the union believes Bernatz was demoted because "he was doing too good a job as chief."

"Some of his moves, while praised by the department, cost money and Mayor Cruse didn't like that," Berry said.

The current union contract was ratified Oct. 19, 1989, and was retroactive to May 1, 1989.

Hearing on bonds for hospital work

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A $6 million bond issue to finance improvements at St. Elizabeth Medical Center will be the topic of a public hearing Tuesday.

The hearing will be Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 3:30 p.m. in the Wiseman Room, located on the first floor of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave.

It will deal with the proposed issuance of $6 million in revenue bonds by the Southwestern Illinois Development Authority.

Proceeds from sale of the bonds are to be loaned to SEMC "to finance capital expenditures such as new equipment and a ground-floor renovation," according to Dennis Lutz, vice president of finance for SEMC.

"The new equipment includes monitors, radiology equipment, beds and other hospital needs that are an ongoing part of the medical center's replacement program," he said.

Lutz said the planned renovation of the ground floor is to make the center's outpatient services more accessible.

The bonds are to be issued in $5,000 denominations. They will mature in 20 years and will be a tax-exempt offering, Lutz said.

All interested parties are welcome to attend the hearing, at which Lutz and a representative of the Development Authority will answer any questions.

Written comments may be submitted to: Mary Kane, Executive Director, Southwestern Illinois Development Authority, One Eastport Plaza Drive, Collinsville, Ill. 62234.

All inquiries and comments should be received no later than 5 p.m. Nov. 6, officials said.

Unwanted property costing tax dollars

By Roger Kramer
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — Madison County is having a tough time as a real estate broker.

It owns land nobody else wants.

County officials this year sold 67 parcels of land from the county trust, slightly more than a tenth of the 619 county-owned parcels. But the county also took title to 67 new parcels, records show.

The unsold property leaves the county with vacant lots that don't generate property taxes and require public tax dollars for upkeep.

The county ends up owning the land because previous owners didn't pay the taxes and no one else bought the property.

Most of the land probably never will be sold and returned to the tax rolls, officials said.

"The tax buyers don't want them because they have odd shapes, they are landlocked or they are located in a big ravine," County Board member Harold Byers said.

Byers, D-Highland, is chairman of the board's Taxation Committee, which oversees property tax collection.

Collection of back property taxes works this way: Tax buyers pay the overdue taxes on property, usually containing houses or businesses, and if the property owner does not pay the tax buyer back with interest, a judge will transfer ownership to the buyer.

But tax buyers are usually uninterested in vacant land, leaving the county to take over ownership.

For example, only six of the county's 410 parcels in Alton have homes on them.

"People ask us all the time if we get any homes, and we just don't have them," Madison County Delinquent-Tax Administrator Margaret Will said.

Much of the property is "on steep hills or in gullies, and there's a lot of triangular lots or narrow lots that can't be built on," Byers said.

Most of the parcels are less than one acre, and some of those are less than 10 feet wide at points, he said.

"Sometimes you have some lots (you can do something with), but you can't do much with most of them," Byers said. "The county doesn't have the money to do anything, anyway. Will said, her office has a $31,227 yearly budget, enough for her salary and paperwork.

"We don't have the money to take care of the property. It's up to the cities, villages and townships to take care of the property, if it's done at all," Will said.

But Byers wants to try to get rid of the land. "Maybe if we could (get the word out), we might be able to sell some."

And that would help area taxing districts.

"It would be nice for people to own that property so taxes could be paid on them," Alton Township Assessor Julie Campbell said.

Almost two-thirds of the county's holdings are in Alton and are valued at $160,020, records show.

Most of the county's holdings are in Alton because of its hilly topography and poor surveying, officials have said.

Based on current property tax rates, seven taxing districts would split $12,422 generated by the county-held Alton properties.

The property is assessed at $219,880, slightly over one-hundredth of one percent of the county's $1.6 billion assessed valuation. There are more than 140,000 parcels in the county.

Computer lab for Middle School

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

MADISON — Time was spent at a Madison School Board meeting Thursday night reviewing the successful start of a new computer laboratory at the Madison Middle School.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony was held Oct. 30 for the lab, which currently contains nine Apple IIe computers. All students have access to the machines.

The board approved early dismissal (2 p.m.) for the Middle School on Nov. 7, 13 and 21 for teacher in-service training on the computers.

Madison High School Principal Robert Mehlich reported on the results of a freshman orientation program implemented this year.

Mehlich explained that, in order to help new students adjust to high school, one academic unit is replaced by the orientation class during the freshman year.

The results, after one quarter of the 1990-91 year, were reported as follows: of 75 freshmen, taking 300 units this year, there were only 27 "F" grades, about 9 percent.

This compares to 75 freshmen, taking 490 units last year in the first quarter, receiving 57 "F" grades (about 24 percent), and 85 freshmen in 1988, taking 465 units in the same period and receiving 92 "F" grades (20 percent).

Mehlich was optimistic about the improvement, and said he believes the orientation program was directly responsible.

The board, which chooses a board secretary each year, elected Bruce Trotts, succeeding Edmund Warchol.

Other board officers are elected for two-year terms. Midway through those terms are President John Ham, Vice President Ed Newsome and School Treasurer Bruce Trotts.

The board also set Dec. 6 as the date of its annual tax levy hearing and released the yearly state "report card."

American Theater reborn with cabaret-style look

The rebirth of the American as a nightclub and theater under the promotional banner of Contemporary Productions begins in November and December with five musical acts. Country and western group Sawyer Brown kicks off the slate Nov. 7; followed by Basia, Nov. 9; Robert Cray, Nov. 16 and 17; Bruce Hornsby and the Range, Nov. 23; and Los Lobos with Steve Earle, Dec. 1.

The American now has tables and chairs, giving it a cabaret look on its main floor. Theater seating still remains in the balcony.

Ads for the new operation claim "even the back balcony seats are surprisingly close to the stage." But according to an interview in 1984 with the late Frank Pierson, about 300 of the theater's seats located in the back balcony are virtually unsellable because of their high angle to the stage view.

'Cats' to play

"Cats," the Andrew Lloyd Webber musical based on T.S. Eliot's "Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats," will be presented by the Muni Nov. 6 through 11 at the Fox Theater.

Tickets are $15 to $33 for 8 p.m. performances Tuesday through Saturday, $12 to $30 for 2 p.m. matinees Saturday and Sunday and $13 to $31 for a 7 p.m. performance Sunday. Tickets can be obtained at the Muni box office in Forest Park; MetroTix Outlets; or by calling (314) 534-1111.

Warriors reach final four

Birdsong's goal enough to topple Naperville North

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

ST. CHARLES, Ill. — Skip Birdsong is finding old habits hard to break. But he's more than willing to keep going.

For the third time in the post-season, the Warriors' all-state midfielder scored the game's only goal as Granite City (23-3-1) tipped Naperville North (19-3-5) 1-0 on Friday in the state quarterfinals at Norris Stadium. The Warriors advanced to play St. Charles, the tournament's host team, in an 11:30 a.m. semifinal on Saturday. Evanston and Palatine will play the other semifinal at 9 a.m.

As Vogt might say, it was déjà vu all over again for the Warriors. As in Tuesday's super-sectional win over Collinsville, Birdsong got the only goal late in the first half — this time at 38:23 — off an assist by Brent Dippel. Senior Matt Loftus made a throw-in from the right touchline and Dippel went up to flick it into the area. Birdsong was there and got enough of it to send it past Husky goalkeeper Steve Hipp for his 14th goal of the season and fourth of the playoffs.

It was only the eighth goal surrendered all year by Naperville North and one of the few bursts of offense in an otherwise conservative game.

"We feel fortunate," said Warrior coach Gene Baker. "It was not one of our better games. Sometimes we try going end-to-end too much and it gets crazy."

Birdsong agreed that the Warriors didn't play one of their best games, but he's not arguing with playing the hero's role.

"I'll keep doing it as long as it takes," he said of getting the winning goal. This was one of the worst games I've played in a long time. We were anxious to play today, and we sat around with nothing to do. That might have had something to do with it."

Birdsong said the ball came off the head of Husky sweeper Jay Konrad before he was able to flick it past Hipp.

"I had a smaller player than usual marking me and I was able to get enough of it," he said.

Naperville North coach Dave Bucher saw much the same thing as he did three years ago when the Warriors beat the Huskies 2-1 in the state semifinals.

That is, Granite City got the lead and killed the clock with stalling tactics. Bucher isn't exactly a big fan of it.

"There's nothing we can do about it," Bucher said. "I don't want to talk too much about it. I have great respect for Gene as a coach. He just has a different way of going about things. I would rather just go out and get it."

JIM McKECHAN and the Warriors earned a trip to the state semifinals on Friday. Skip Birdsong's second period goal handed Granite City a 1-0 victory over Naperville North.

Many area bowlers at Toyota Classic

At least a dozen St. Louis-area bowlers are expected to participate in the $150,000 Toyota Classic, a stop on the Professional Bowlers Association tour, Sunday through Saturday (Nov. 4-10) at Tropicana Lanes in Richmond Heights.

Three members of the Dick Weber family are slated to compete — father Dick and sons Pete and John.

Other local bowlers entered are Leroy Bornhorst, Randy Lightfoot, Steve Wunderlich and Kevin Tuchen of St. Charles; Rowdy Morrow, proprietor of George King of Alton; Ralph Solan of South St. Louis County; and Randy Holm, proprietor of brothers Rich Orf and Steve Orf of the South Side.

The Orfs are expected to be in the 80-bowler "rabbit squad" that will compete from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday. That group will roll two five-game blocks for about 25 berths in the 160-man qualifying field that starts Wednesday. Admission is free for the rabbit-squad matches.

This is the second consecutive year the PBA's fall tour stops at the 82-lane Tropicana, 7900 Clayton Road. The finals will be telecast on a tape-delay basis Saturday on KSDK-TV, (Channel 5). Sportscenter, Jay Randolph and Hall of Famer Earl Anthony will handle the telecast.

The tournament begins Sunday with Youth and Senior Pro-Ams. Youth entry is $20 for youngsters in three categories — grades 1 through 6, 7 through 9, 10 through 12. They will shoot for trophies.

Seniors age 60 and over can enter for $25, with a first prize between $250 and $300, depending upon the number of entries. Both Youth and Senior Pro-Ams will roll at noon, 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday, with additional Senior squads at 1 and 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The Adult Pro-Am is slated for 1, 3:30, 6 and 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Entry fee is $50 with a first prize of $1,000, based on 800 entries.

To enter the Pro-Am, call Tropicana Lanes at 314-781-0200. Pro-Am bowlers will roll three games with three different pros. Amateurs will use their three-game totals, plus their handicap and a minimum of 200 per game from each pro to determine the winners.

Dick Weber finished fifth Oct. 25 in the $75,000 Treasure Coast Senior PBA Open in Ft. Pierce, Fla., where he earned $2,800. King was 19th and picked up $1,250. Del Bote of St. Louis finished 48th for $570.

Jimmy Certain of Huntsville, Ala., won the $7,500 first prize.

Rich Orf took third place for $800 in the Resident Pro Midwestern Regional on Oct. 28 at Scott Air Force. Jim Duran of Indianapolis won the $2,000 top prize.

Other local cashers were Paul Brandon, St. Louis, 6th, $375; Greg Leok, Fenton, 13th, $430; and Bart Castelli, St. Louis, 31st, $130.

The 13th annual Cystic Fibro-

sis "Bowl for Breath" tournament will be held Nov. 10 and 17 at four local centers. Competition will take place Nov. 10 at Strike 'n Spare Lanes, 1309 N. Lindbergh, and at Red Bird Lanes, Gravois and Hampton in south St. Louis.

Bowlers will shoot Nov. 17 at Dick Weber Lanes, 4575 Washington, in Florissant, and at Tropicana Lanes. Co-chairmen are KTVI-TV (Channel 2) sportscaster Greg Ginzski, and Hall of Famer Ray Bluth, proprietor of Crestwood Bowl.

Bowlers can win prizes based on the amount of dollars collected. For information call the Cystic Fibrosis office at 314-721-2490.

The Over-The-Hill 40 Club for bowlers 40 years and older will hold a one-day tournament Nov. 11 at Troy-Bowl in Troy, Mo. Entry fee is $35 for tourney. They will have 10 straight games. Bowling begins at 10 a.m. For information call Jim Blubaugh at 314-857-6223.

The race in the Anheuser-Busch/BPA Masters Traveling League tightened up considerably last Tuesday (Oct. 30) at O'Fallon (Mo.) Bowl when the Illinois Distributors Busch Mountaineers dropped Herrell's Budweiser Eagles into second place via a 37-3 thumping. Kandy Lightfoot of Illinois Distributors led the league with a 768.

Grey Eagle Michelob Light took over the lead by 1½ points with a 23-17 win over Busch Light. The gap between first and fifth place is only 39½ points.

Deer season opens next weekend

By this time next weekend, hunters will have made thousands of trips up and down trees in Missouri.

"No, they haven't taken to chasing squirrels with salt shakers. Missouri's firearms deer season opens Saturday (Nov. 10) and runs through Nov. 18. The best way to collect some venison for the long winter is to get into a tree and wait for a whitetail deer to wander by.

But tree-stand hunting can be dangerous. Each year, there are reports and stories about hunters who fall out of their trees climbing up, climbing down or while they are sitting there. Through-out the nation there are more deer hunters injured by falling out of tree stands than by firearms accidents.

I remember about 25 years

ago I was looping a line around my EMPT rifle and affixing it to my belt, then shimmying up a tree and pulling it up so I could hunt. I would stand for four or five hours on a limb just about as wide as my foot. I shifted my weight a lot.

But that is a dangerous as well as uncomfortable way to hunt. Modern tree stands, whether the type that will help you climb or the type you have to use hang-on steps to get into the tree to affix, are much more comfortable.

And many hunters build permanent tree stands. If you build a permanent stand, try to select a tree that will not someday produce a good log. Use decent lumber and big nails.

When in a tree stand, always use a safety belt. Too many hunters do not, and that is dangerous. It is easy to lose your balance or, more commonly, fall asleep. I am convinced some self-inflicted firearms accidents happen because hunters fall asleep and drop their rifles from tree stands. But hunters falling is more common.

The hunters in our group spent last weekend checking, refurbishing and getting ready. However, I must admit that at least

Warriors

"The shot total (3-3) was indicative of the play as neither team had an abundance of scoring chances. Warrior keeper Tim Henson was very effective coming off the line to pick off long passes."

"Timmy was very stable back there the whole night," said Baker. "Physically, he's ideal for us in the net. He was aggressive and took charge tonight."

The Warriors suffered their only quarterfinal loss in the state finals here in 1983. But they hung on Friday, despite a few anxious moments in the fourth quarter. The Huskies got the ball close to the goal, but never really got a good shot off.

"The first game is almost always the toughest to win," Baker said. "I sure hope this is as tough as it gets."

"I knew whoever scored first would win this game," Bucher said. "I was hoping they wouldn't score off a restart. But Hipp came off his line a little too soon. Then they just went back in their shell."

NOTES: Counting Friday's victory, the Warriors are riding an eight-game winning streak, while going 19-1 in the last 21 games.

Connors tennis roots traced to Granite City

In an Associated Press news item from Los Angeles, it was recently announced that Jimmy Connors, who has many deep connections with Granite City tennis, has agreed to join up with Martina Navratilova to play Team Tennis in 1991 and 1992.

Both Connors and Martina have been ranked No. 1 in the world of tennis and are still good enough to beat any current star of the game in a one-set match, even now at their advanced ages. Connors just recently turned 38, while Navratilova isn't that old but not too far off.

The two great tennis stars were signed by another great of the game, Billie Jean King, to a multi-year contract calling for $100,000 a year for two years.

Billie Jean was the promoter of the greatest match of all-time, the to-the-death match between herself and the veteran flim-flam artist, Bobby Riggs, which drew the single largest crowd at the Houston Astrodome back in 1973.

The story of Connors' tie-up with Martina brought to mind that a local man, now dead, played a key role in making Jimmy the great tennis player that he turned out to be.

The man who played that key role in Jimmy's development was Earnest (E.A.) Karandjeff, local banker and a man of all seasons, who over a period of two years' time worked with the young tennis star to help him perfect his (Connors) serve.

And in my mind, Connors possessed the greatest service return of any one who ever played the great game of tennis. Here's the story of how E.A. helped Jimmy develop his great service return.

Jimmy's mother, Gloria, was world class player herself, as was her mother, Mrs. Thompson. As I've been told, Mrs. Thompson was one of the very few American women tennis players to force the legendary Helen Wills Moody to three sets before losing.

When I came to St. Louis in July of 1945 to join the staff of the old Star-Times, the first person I thought of to do a "feature story about" was Jimmy's mother. I had met her playing at an invitational tennis tournament at Paducah, Ky., while watching her progress in other meets throughout the Midwest.

And, as time passed, I took a job with Granite City Retailers and started playing tennis with Karandjeff at Wilson Park.

won 28 points to remain 40½ points apart in the St. Louis BPA women's All-Stars, who also bowled at O'Fallon.

The leagues go separate ways Tuesday. The Masters will be at St. Ann Lanes, 10529 St. Charles Rock Road, and the women will bowl at Arcade Lanes, 750 Olive Boulevard. Both leagues begin at 7 p.m. around 1957 or thereabouts.

Along about this time, Jimmy's mother (Gloria) called me and asked me to help line up some men to "hit" with her son whom she had determined to develop into a great tennis player.

At least three times a week, starting in the spring of the year, she would call me and ask me to line some fellows up to hit with Jimmy. Because Earnie Karandjeff possessed a great serve, he was the guy I fingered to help Connors with his service return.

It worked beyond everyone's fondest dreams. Connors learned fast and became, in my opinion, the greatest service returner in the game of tennis.

With my buddy's Earnie's help, God, how I miss hitting with E.A. He was a great competitor.

•Seibel

one of us spent a little time closing out the fall turkey season. I spotted some deer using the runs we will be covering opening day, too.

Judging from the signs and deer we saw, the acorn crop is very good. Deer are in the woods, feeding on the acorns, but their thoughts seem to be shifting to the annual rut or breeding season. Bucks are making their scrapes very evident and I found three places where the ground was so torn up that I'm sure bucks had been fighting there.

Depending upon the weather, there should be a good number of hunters afield for the firearms season.

To give you an idea, in 1989 there were 414,376 resident and 11,188 non-resident firearms deer permits sold. Those hunters harvested 155,516 whitetail deer. Resident muzzleloading firearms hunters, who also hunt Nov. 10 through 18 and get a second opportunity Dec. 1 through 9, took 1,899 deer in 1989. Resident and non-resident archery hunters numbered 83,430. They harvested 10,966 deer.

When the numbers are added up, including the special managed hunts on areas normally not hunted, 509,004 hunters in Missouri harvested a total of 169,461 deer in 1989.

They paid more than $5.2 million for the necessary permits to hunt—money that goes into professional management of the wildlife, fish, and forestry resources of the state.

So when you crawl up or down that tree Saturday, think about a couple of things: safety and how important you are to the conservation program of Missouri.

Revivalist appears at Pontoon Beach church

Lucille Martin covers the Pontoon Beach scene for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-0731.

Wayne Lyons of Coulterville spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Andersen of Breckenridge Lane.

The Rev. Ed Hart of Minnesota was guest speaker at the Pontoon Baptist Church at a weekend revival. After the Sunday evening service, he showed slides of his missionary work in and around Bemidji, Minn.

A celebration of the birthdays and wedding anniversaries of church members followed.

A potluck dinner was served to Hart, the Rev. Bill Owens, Jake Smith, Wink Abbott, Frances and Larry Brake, Paul and Izetta Stayduhar, Leta Koltenburn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, Ralph and Juanita Craycraft, Maggie and Harlon Luffman, Barbara and Gary Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Krause.

Also, Ben and Lula Frost, Dee Owens, Ron and Karen DeZusa, Rachel Andrew and Matthew DeZusa, Maxine Green, Frank and Agnes Lindsay, Mary Stayduhar, Jack and Virginia Elliott, Hilda Fowler, Karen French, Ida Mercer, Bobbie Schemwell, Linda Boswell, Shirley Jones, Norma Jean Tierney, Sylvia Massman and Lucille Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy (Tonya) Lamkin are announcing the birth of their first child, a son, born on Wednesday, Oct. 24, 1990.

He weighed 7 pounds, 11 ounces and has been named Buddy Allen Lamkin Jr. Grandparents are Harold and Connie McBride.

"How Can the World Hear?" was the topic of lesson at the Baptist Women's meeting.

Maggie Luffman opened with prayer and Frances Brake gave the prayer patterns and scripture from the 2 Corinthians 3:17-18.

It was announced the group had exceeded its state missions goal of $400. Letters of thanks were read from Faye Hughes for a donation to the Youth Camp.

Births

Shane J. Sheppard

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Sheppard of Granite City are announcing the birth of a son, born at 8:32 a.m. on Oct. 17, 1990, at Wood River Township Hospital. The infant has been named Shane Jordan. He weighed 7 pounds, 15 ounces. The mother is the former Karen Copeland. Maternal grandparents are Don and Betty Copeland of Granite City. Paternal grandparents are Annalie Sheppard of Springfield, Mo., and Russell Sheppard of Granite City. The couple has one other child, Matthew, 2.

Ryan M. Hunter

Raymond Hunter and Cindy Schubert of Granite City are announcing the birth of a son, born on Oct. 22, 1990, at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. The infant has been named Ryan Michael Hunter. He weighed 6 pounds, 6 ounces. Ryan joins a sister, Chastina, 4.

Group Health Plan

An Open Letter To The St. Louis Community

GHP Group Health Plan

In the days ahead many of you will be asked to choose a plan for your health care coverage in 1991 — a choice that most certainly should be made carefully and with complete information. Accordingly, I wanted to bring you up-to-date about four important developments at Group Health Plan:

1. Over 450 physicians added. More than four hundred and fifty community physicians have chosen to become affiliated with GHP, and we intend to add even more physicians in the months ahead. This translates into a far greater pool of physicians for you to choose from. It also means, ready access year-round to high quality medical care.
2. Ten hospitals added. Ten additional hospitals have become affiliated with GHP, including Barnes, Jewish and Children's Hospitals, as well as St. John's Mercy Medical Center, Christian Hospitals, Lutheran Medical Center, and St. Elizabeth's in Granite City, Illinois. These additional hospitals bring to 22 the number of St. Louis area hospitals who are now part of the GHP network.
3. New pharmacy chain added. More than 50 new pharmacies throughout the St. Louis area are now part of our network, too, if you choose a non-health center physician.
4. GHP health center hours extended. Our health center hours have been expanded to include evening hours several nights each week to better accommodate the needs of our members. (We have also added more physicians to our health center staffs.)

Importantly, all of these changes have been made without compromising the traditionally high level of health care benefits GHP provides to its members; as a result, out-of-pocket costs remain minimal for our members.

As you contemplate your health benefit plan choices in the days ahead, we hope you do so with GHP in mind. We very much hope to have the privilege of serving your health care needs — and perhaps those of your entire family — in 1991.

Sincerely,

Mark H. Tabak
President
